

CERTIFICATE OF ATTENDANCE

I hereby confirm that Dr. Viacheslav Danilov from Pompeu Fabra University (Barcelona, Spain) has participated in a staff mobility program at the University of Groningen (Groningen, the Netherlands) within the framework of the Erasmus+ programme for teaching and training from April 13 to April 17, 2026.

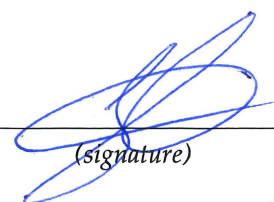

During this period, he took part in the following activities:

- Technical meetings and research discussions with the host academic, Prof. George Azzopardi, on ongoing projects in machine learning, computer vision, and predictive modelling, including methodological exchange on model design and evaluation strategies.
- Coordination with the House of Connections in Groningen to organize and deliver a public seminar.
- Delivery of a seminar entitled "A Safe Window Into Brain Pressure" at the House of Connections, presenting work on non-invasive intracranial pressure estimation using optical sensing and machine learning, developed within the SafeICP project (<https://safe-icp.vercel.app/>, <https://safeicp.es/>).
- Knowledge-exchange sessions with researchers at the University of Groningen, including discussion of shared research priorities in AI/ML for biomedical and applied domains.
- Working sessions to identify joint research directions, publication opportunities, and potential follow-up collaboration between Pompeu Fabra University and the University of Groningen.
